ADVERSARY PROCEEDING ~~FIRST~~SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, Universal Life Insurance Company (“ULICO”), respectfully alleges as follows to the best of its knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances:

Nature of the Action

1. This case arises out of a massive fraudulent scheme devised by Defendant Greg E. Lindberg and co-conspirators. Lindberg, his associates, and a large number of affiliated corporate entities conspired to transfer hundreds of millions of dollars of the assets from a trust (“the Trust”) created to reinsure claims made by people who purchased annuities and life insurance policies from a Puerto Rican insurer named Universal Life Insurance Company (“ULICO”), the plaintiff in this case.

2. Lindberg, the ultimate owner of Private Bankers Life & Annuity Co., Ltd. (“PBLA”), caused PBLA to enter into reinsurance and trust agreements with ULICO on June 30, 2017.

3. Under those agreements, PBLA was to reinsure certain life insurance and annuities ULICO had issued to its policyholders. The trust agreements specifically provided that the Trust was endowed by ULICO with sufficient assets to meet 105% of the relevant statutory reserves for the reinsured policies. ~~PBLA~~ Pursuant to the reinsurance agreement entered into between PBLA and ULICO, PBLA was the agent to the trust and therefore was given the right to manage the investment of those trust assets, subject to strict investment guidelines. PBLA was allowed to keep amounts in excess of certain thresholds above the reserve requirements, if it was successful in the investment of the trust assets. However, PBLA was also required to inject assets into the trust in the event that it was unsuccessful in maintaining the requisite premium over the reserve requirements.

4. So confident in his scheme, Lindberg entered into a personal guaranty of PBLA's obligations to maintain the trust values required in the reinsurance and trust agreements. As the ultimate owner of PBLA, Lindberg also stood to benefit from the receipt of funds obtained by PBLA in the event that its investment strategy generated returns sufficient to exceed the reserve requirements set forth in the reinsurance and trust agreements.

5. The centerpiece of the conspiracy set forth in this complaint was the monetization of valuable assets held in the trust, then the transfer of cash from the trust first to the Debtor, PBLA, and then to other entities controlled by Lindberg. Those transfers were principally disguised as debt instruments between PBLA and Lindberg-controlled limited liability companies and corporations that lacked economic substance. Those transactions were really for the purpose of enriching Lindberg and his co-conspirators. The point was to create the illusion that Lindberg was a successful self-made billionaire, to strip the trust of its assets, and to defraud, hinder, and delay the Plaintiff, ULICO, as PBLA's principal creditor.

6. In addition to the transfers described above, Lindberg also set in motion various indirect transfers whereby funds were transferred from the trust to a seemingly inconspicuous entity at the direction of Lindberg or entities controlled by Lindberg and for the purpose of enriching those entities and Lindberg's co-conspirators.

7. ~~6.~~ Lindberg sought to hide this conspiracy from regulators by conspiring to bribe the North Carolina Insurance Commissioner with $2 million in payments. A jury in the United States District Court for the Western District of North Carolina found Lindberg guilty of those charges. The district court there sentenced Lindberg to a term of imprisonment of more than seven years. Lindberg is currently in the custody of the United States Bureau of Prisons serving out his sentence in a federal prison in Alabama.

8. ~~7.~~ The Lindberg scheme was implemented through a dizzying array of front corporations and limited liability companies contrived to create maximum confusion and a lack of transparency. Those entities were all alter egos of Lindberg and each other. The point was to hide the shell game that was on-going where money was transferred from one bogus Lindberg entity to the next, then to another, and then to another. At each step, the Lindberg entities would agree to pay each other lucrative interest rates to inflate the apparent economic success of the Lindberg empire. In reality, it was all a confidence game where all of these entities acted as alter egos of Lindberg behind a veil of smoke and mirrors. This case seeks to lift that veil and to obtain justice for the people and organizations Lindberg and his co-conspirators have defrauded.

9. ~~8.~~ ULICO, as beneficial and equitable owner of the proceeds within the Trust, was a creditor of PBLA from the time of the initial voidable transfer. As of the time of this complaint ULICO has a final, and unsatisfied, judgment in its favor against ULICO in the amount of $524,009,051.26 plus interest.

~~9. —ULICO, as PBLA's largest creditor, has requested that the Joint Provisional Liquidators (the "JPLs") of PBLA institute litigation to void the transfers at issue in this case, but to date the JPLs have declined to pursue those claims.~~

10. ~~Accordingly,~~ ULICO, as the beneficial owner of the proceeds within the Trust, and PBLA's sole creditor with respect to the trust, has standing to pursue the voidable transfer claims, among others, at issue in this case.

11. While this matter includes a substantial number of defendants, bringing this adversary proceeding against all defendants in one action is imperative to allow ULICO to fully recover all funds that have been depleted from the Trust. Lindberg's intention in enacting such a complex scheme was to make it difficult for ULICO to trace and find Trust assets within the dizzying array of transactions and entities. ULICO has since expended considerable resources to trace these transactions in order to plead them with as much detail as possible here. A United States Bankruptcy Court is particularly suited for handling such a complex matter.

Procedural History

12. ~~11.~~ On September 18, 2020, the Bermuda Monetary Authority presented a petition to the Supreme Court of Bermuda (the "Bermuda Court") to, inter alia, wind up ~~the PB Life & Assurance Co ("Debtor" or "PBLA")~~ and to appoint Rachelle Frisby and John Johnston of Deloitte as Joint Provisional Liquidators of the Debtor. By order dated September 25, 2020 (the "Bermuda Order"), the Bermuda Court appointed the JPLs as duly authorized foreign representatives of the Debtor.

13. ~~12.~~ On December 3, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), the JPLs commenced the "Chapter 15 Case" by filing the Verified Petition for relief under chapter 15 of title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq., as amended (the "Bankruptcy Code").

14. ~~13.~~ On January 5, 2021, this Court entered an order granting recognition of the Bermuda Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding under section 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code (the "Recognition Order").

15. ~~14.~~ The Recognition Order specifically provides, “[a]ll provisions of section 1520 of the Bankruptcy Code apply in these Chapter 15 Cases, including, without limitation, the stay under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code throughout the duration of these Chapter 15 Cases or until otherwise ordered by this Court.” See Recognition Order at ¶3.

16. ~~15.~~ On July 6, 2021, ULICO initiated this adversary proceeding against various defendants, the summons and complaint was served on each of the defendants on July 9, 2021.

17. At the time of filing, ULICO was facing potentially time-barred claims and therefore was forced to file its complaint with limited information with regards to specific fraudulent transfers.

18. ~~16.~~ Since the filing of the initial complaint, ULICO ~~has~~ obtained subsequent financial records and information that suggests several additional entities received fraudulent transfers out of the ~~trust~~Trust. Consequently, on July 30, 2021, ULICO ~~files this~~filed its first amended complaint to reflect the additional defendants that participated or received certain voidable transfers that are the subject of this adversary proceeding.

19. Since filing the first amended complaint, the Court permitted ULICO to issue third-party subpoenas to certain financial institutions, including ULICO’s former trustees Wilmington Trust and BNY Mellon, in order to obtain the documentation related to the transactions involving the Trust. As a result, ULICO has obtained significantly more information as it relates to the fraudulent conveyances involving certain named defendants that are the subject of this adversary proceeding.

20. In light of this new information, ULICO seeks to file this second amended complaint, which provides a more detailed synopsis of each fraudulent transfer as it relates to each named defendant.

Jurisdiction and Venue

21. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter under 28 U.S.C. § 1334 as this adversary proceeding is “related to” to the main case, In re PB Life and Annuity Co., Ltd., Case No. 20-12791, subject to the Recognition Order under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Court. This matter was properly referred to this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated as of January 31, 2012, Reference M-431, In re Standing Order of Reference Re: Title II, 12 Misc. 00032 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 2, 2012) (Preska, C.J.).

22. This Court also has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because there is complete diversity of citizenship between ULICO and all of the defendants.

23. This Court has expressly retained jurisdiction over the subject matter of this adversary proceeding pursuant to the Recognition Order.

24. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1410.

25. The statutory predicate for the Adversary Proceeding is 11 U.S.C. §§ 1520, 362, and 541.

Parties

26. ~~17.~~ Plaintiff ~~Universal Life Insurance Company (“ULICO”)~~ is an insurance company created by the law of the United States unincorporated territory of Puerto Rico with its principal place of business in Puerto Rico.

A. Individual Defendants

27. ~~18.~~ Defendant Greg E. Lindberg is a resident of Nevada. He is the ultimate beneficial owner of PBLA. PBLA is owned 100% by PBX Bermuda Holdings, Ltd. PBX Bermuda Holdings, Ltd. is in turn owned 100% by PBX Holdings, LLC. Mr. Lindberg holds a 100% ownership interest in PBX Holdings, LLC. Lindberg is an alter ego of Global Growth and Eli Global. As set forth in great detail herein, Lindberg, through PLBA, put in motion hundreds of fraudulent transfers through the use of shell corporations with the intention of defrauding ULICO, the ultimate beneficiary of the Trust.

28. ~~19.~~ Defendant Chris Herwig is a resident of North Carolina. He was the Treasurer, Chief Investment Officer and Portfolio Manager for ~~Eli~~ Eli Global, LLC. Chris Herwig at various times assisted Lindberg with his conspiracy to defraud ULICO. Specifically, Chris Herwig was Lindberg's right-hand man in implementing his fraudulent scheme. Defendant Herwig was often made an officer of the shell companies, many named as Defendants herein, that Lindberg formed to facilitate fraudulent transfers. In fact, Herwig signed on behalf of those entities, including PBLA, on many of the loan and assignment agreements evidencing such fraudulent transfers, as described in more detail below. Like Lindberg, Herwig stood to benefit from the receipt of funds obtained by PBLA by virtue of his partnership with Lindberg.

~~20. Defendant AAPC Holdings, LLC ("AAPC") is a North Carolina limited liability company with a principal place of business located at 2222 Sedwick Road, Durham, NC 27713-4446. It has no members who are citizens of Puerto Rico. The 2021 annual report that is filed with the state of North Carolina lists Lindberg as Chairman and secretary.~~

29. Defendant Christa Miller is a resident of North Carolina. She is listed as the Chief Financial Officer and secretary for several defendants that are affiliated with Lindberg. Defendant Miller executed several loan and security agreements on behalf of various defendants (identified below), and at various times assisted Lindberg with his conspiracy to defraud ULICO. Like Lindberg and Herwig, Miller stood to benefit from the receipt of funds obtained by PBLA by virtue of her partnership with both individuals.

B. Hutchison Law Group

30. Defendant Hutchison Law Group, PLLC is a North Carolina professional limited liability company located at 3110 Edwards Mill Road, Suite 300, Raleigh, NC 27612. It has no members who are citizens of Puerto Rico.

C. The Financial Institution Defendants

31. Defendant UBS Financial Services, Inc., is a broker-dealer regulated by the U.S. Security and Exchange Commission and incorporated in the state of Delaware, with its principal place of business in New York. At various times, UBS Financial Services, Inc. acted as a conduit and received funds transferred from the Trust, before such funds were transferred to various Lindberg Affiliates and other entities or individuals.

32. Defendant Credit Suisse AG Cayman Island Branch (“CS”) is a Swiss corporate entity with its principal place of business in the British Overseas Territory of the Cayman Islands. It specializes in the business of security brokers, dealers & flotation companies. At various times, CS acted as a conduit and received funds transferred from the Trust before such funds were transferred to various Lindberg Affiliates and other entities or individuals.

33. Defendant Morgan Stanley Senior Funding, Inc. is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business located in New York. At various times, Morgan Stanley Senior Funding, Inc. acted as a conduit and received funds transferred from the Trust before such funds were transferred to various Lindberg Affiliates and other entities or individuals.

34. The Bryn Mawr Trust Company is a Pennsylvania bank. At various times, Bryn Mawr Trust Company acted as a conduit and received funds transferred from the Trust before such funds were transferred to various Lindberg Affiliates and other entities or individuals.

35. At one point, each of the above listed bank Defendants (“Financial Institution Defendants”) acted to assist PBLA in facilitating, directing, or benefitting from the transfers of Trust proceeds.

D. The “Lindberg Affiliate Defendants”

36. The following defendants each received funds from the Trust through various loan and assignment agreements, as outlined below. Each of the defendants listed below is affiliated with Lindberg and therefore, they are referred to in this complaint as “Lindberg Affiliate Defendants.”

Jurisdiction and Venue

~~114.~~ This Court has jurisdiction over this matter under 28 U.S.C. § 1334 as this adversary proceeding is “related to” to the main case, In re PB Life and Annuity Co., Ltd., Case No. 20-12791, subject to the Recognition Order under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Court. This matter was properly referred to this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated as of January 31, 2012, Reference M-431, In re Standing Order of Reference Re: Title 11, 12 Misc. 00032 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 2, 2012) (Preska, C.J.).

~~115.~~ This Court also has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because there is complete diversity of citizenship between ULICO and all of the defendants.

~~116.~~ This Court has expressly retained jurisdiction over the subject matter of this adversary proceeding pursuant to the Recognition Order.

~~117.~~ Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1410.

~~118.~~ The statutory predicate for the Adversary Proceeding is 11 U.S.C. §§ 1520, 362, and 541.

Relevant Background

A. Creation of the Trust Agreements and Trust Accounts

114. ~~119.~~ On or about June 30, 2017, PBLA and ULICO entered into a coinsurance/reinsurance agreement (the “Reinsurance Agreement”) whereby PBLA agreed to reinsure certain policies issued by ULICO.

115. ~~120.~~ The Reinsurance Agreement required PBLA to fund certain trust accounts (collectively referred to as ~~“PBLA ULICO 2017”~~ or “Trust”) as security for the insurance liabilities covered under the Reinsurance Agreement.

116. ~~121.~~ The Reinsurance Agreement assigned Wilmington Trust as the Trustee to ~~PBLA ULICO 2017~~the Trust.

117. ~~122.~~ Broadly, PBLA was to reinsure certain policy responsibilities of ULICO. Those reinsurance obligations were collateralized through the Trust. An investment manager was appointed to manage the Trust assets consistent with the investment guidelines. The Trust was to have, at all times, at least 105% of ULICO's necessary statutory reserves. In the event that the assets in the Trust accounts exceeded the amount of required reserves, under certain circumstances, PBLA was entitled to withdraw those amounts in excess of the reserves required under the agreements. In essence, PBLA was responsible to make sure that adequate funds were always available in the Trust in return for the ability to earn the upside of investing the trust assets in a manner that exceeded the amounts that were required to be in the Trust Accounts.

118. On February 16, 2018, the Trustee, PBLA, and ULICO, executed a comfort trust agreement and reinsurance trust agreement establishing the Trust at Bank of New York Mellon.

B. Fraudulent Transfer History

119. ~~123.~~ Subsequent to the time the funds were transferred to the Trust by ULICO, on or around July 6, 2017, monies were transferred out of the Trust by PBLA to affiliates owned by Lindberg and his various other corporate entities (the "Lindberg Affiliate Defendants"). Those entities operate together as alter-egos as one another such that there is no legal distinction between ~~those entities~~the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants and Lindberg.

120. ~~124.~~ Prior to the Bermuda Court's Order as to PBLA, PBLA under the direction of Lindberg, siphoned off more than $500 million of funds from the Trust (referred to as the "Trust Proceeds") to Lindberg and his affiliated entities in an effort to hinder, defraud and delay recovery to creditors, including ULICO.

121. ~~125.~~ At one time, and as described more thoroughly below, each of the named Defendants were either recipients of such transfers from the Trust or directed transfers out of the Trust to other entities for their own eventual enrichment.

122. At times, the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, Financial Institution Defendants, and Hutchison Law Group received cash transfers from a bank account held at either Wilmington Trust or BNY Mellon, over which PBLA had control, that held the assets of the Trust. Those Accounts are listed below:

- a. PBLA-ULICO 2017 - Wilmington Trust Account;
- b. Private Bankers L&A Co LTD (Bermuda) Wilmington Trust Account;
- c. PBLA-ULICO 2017 Comfort Trust -Wilmington Trust Account;
- d. PBLA – ULICO 2017 Reinsurance Trust BNY Mellon Account; and
- e. PBLA-ULICO 2017 Comfort Trust BNY Mellon Account

123. Where a Defendant would receive a cash transfer from one of the accounts listed above, PBLA acted as a lender to loan money to certain entities and the funds for certain loans that were consequently withdrawn from the Trust.

Known Fraudulent Transfers To Date

Count I

Voidable Transfer With Intent to Hinder, Delay or Defraud

As to ~~All~~the Voidable Transfer Defendants
(Under North Carolina General Statutes §39-23.4)

312. ~~135.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~90~~312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

313. ~~136.~~ PBLA, through the direction of Lindberg and Herwig, entered into and executed hundreds of transactions withdrawing assets from the Trust and ~~then loaned~~ loaning the Trust ~~Proceeds's assets~~ to various affiliates of Lindberg with knowledge of the effect such transactions would have on ~~the~~ future creditors, mainly, ULICO.

~~137.—Specifically, on July 7, 2017 disguised as loan and security agreements, PBLA loaned Trust Proceeds to various Lindberg affiliated entities. The below list is not exhaustive as it concerns those fraudulent transfers that occurred on July 7, 2017.~~

~~a.—Loan to Carnation Three for $18,000,000.00;~~
~~b.—Loan to Forsyth for $16,394,024.11;~~
~~c.—Loan to Flowery Branch for $10,129,912.33; and~~
~~d.—Loan or Disbursement to Cygnet 002 Master Trust Series 2016 B for $17,895,923.23.~~

~~138.—Additionally, on November 3, 2017, PBLA entered into a loan and security agreement with Daisy Seven LLC, whereby PBLA loaned Daisy Seven, LLC $15,779,788.30.~~

~~139.—On November 7, 2017, PBLA entered into a loan and security agreement with New England Capital, LLC, whereby PBLA loaned New England Capital, LLC $12,000,000.00.~~

~~140.—On December 6, 2017, PBLA acting as a co-lender along with Vista Life & Casualty Reinsurance Company entered into a loan agreement with Augusta Asset Management, Inc. for $35,000,000.00, whereby PBLA provided 68.57% share of the loan totaling $24,000,000.00, all of which was withdrawn from the Trust on the same day.~~

~~141. On December 28, 2017, PBLA entered into a loan and security agreement with Begonia Eight, LLC, with Colorado Bankers Life Insurance Company acting as the agent, whereby PBLA loaned $8,981,250.00 to Begonia Eight, LLC, all of which was withdrawn from the Trust on the same day.~~

~~142. The transactions noted above are merely examples of several that continued through December 31, 2018.~~

~~143. All of the transactions, included those stated above, were conducted with the actual and specific intent to hinder, delay, or defraud ULICO and any related creditors.~~

314. As reflected above, each of the Voidable Transfer Defendants received transfers, at the direction of PBLA, from the Trust.

315. At the time of each transfer ULICO was either (1) a creditor of PBLA at the time the transfer was made or (2) became a creditor of PBLA subsequent to the transfer.

316. Each transfer was made with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud ULICO as a creditor of PBLA.

317. Each transfer was conducted and made at a time where the Trust did not have sufficient funds to meet the minimum reserve requirement as required by the Reinsurance Agreement and PBLA did not have the financial capability of doing so. Therefore, PBLA was insolvent.

318. Defendant Greg Lindberg, an insider to PBLA, directed and facilitated each of the transfers to other Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, all of which also clearly operated as alter-egos of Lindberg.

319. Additionally, at the time each transfer was made to a Voidable Transfer Defendant, Lindberg had the requisite knowledge that PBLA was insolvent at the time and did not have the funds available to cover its financial obligations under the Reinsurance Agreement.

320. For each transfer that occurred between PBLA (as instructed by Defendants Greg Lindberg, Chris Herwig, and Christa Miller) and a Lindberg Affiliate Defendant, each of the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants acted as alter-egos of Defendant Lindberg himself.

321. For each of the transfers that were between PBLA (as instructed by Defendants Greg Lindberg, Chris Herwig, and Christa Miller) and a Lindberg Affiliate Defendant the Lindberg Affiliate Defendant acted as alter-ego of Lindberg himself.

322. At all relevant times, PBLA, Lindberg, or one of the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, retained possession or control of the Trust Proceeds that were transferred from the Trust.

323. For each of the transfers from the Trust to a Lindberg Affiliate Defendant, Lindberg, Herwig, and Miller acted to conceal that the Trust Proceeds for the sole benefit of Lindberg and his affiliated entities partners, including Chris Herwig and Christa Miller.

324. For each of the transfers received by the Voidable Transfer Defendants, certain “badges of fraud” were present, including (1) the lack of adequate consideration for the transfers; (2) the close relationship between the entities involved in the transfers given Lindberg’s dominion and control over the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants; (3) the retention of funds rightfully belonging to ULICO by Lindberg and his affiliated companies; (4) the cumulative effect of the serious and course of conduct involving the transfers given the large amount of money transferred to parties affiliated with Lindberg in a short time frame and therefore (5) the general chronology of the events and transactions under inquiry.

Count II
Voidable Transfer Without Receipt Of Reasonably Equivalent Value
As to the Voidable Transfer Defendants
(Under North Carolina General Statutes §39-23.4)

325. Paragraphs 1 through 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

326. At the time of each transfer ULICO was either (1) a creditor of PBLA at the time the transfer was made or (2) became a creditor of PBLA subsequent to the transfer.

327. ~~144. For each of the hundreds of transactions, ULICO did not receive~~Each transfer was made without receipt of reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer, and PBLA was or obligation.

328. For each transfer, the Voidable Transfer Defendants engaged in a transfer or transaction for which the remaining assets of ~~the Trust~~PBLA were unreasonably small in relation to the transfer or transaction, ~~and should reasonably believed.~~

329. For each transfer, the Voidable Transfer Defendant intended for PBLA to incur, or believed PBLA would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay as they became due.

330. For each transfer, the transfers were conducted by PBLA and made at a time where the Trust did not have sufficient funds to meet the minimum reserve requirement as required by the Reinsurance Agreement and PBLA did not have the financial capability of doing so. Therefore, PBLA was insolvent.

331. For each transfer, Defendant Greg Lindberg, an insider to PBLA, directed and facilitated each of the transfers to other Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, all of which also clearly operated as alter-egos of Lindberg.

332. ~~Additionally,~~ at the time ~~of each transaction that such transactions were beyond~~ ~~PBLA's ability to pay as such~~ transfer was made to a Voidable Transfer Defendant, Lindberg had the requisite knowledge that PBLA was insolvent at the time and did not have the funds available to cover its financial obligations ~~became due under the Reinsurance Agreement.~~

333. ~~145. Each~~ For each of the transfers that ~~occurred~~ were between PBLA (as instructed by Defendants Greg Lindberg and, Chris Herwig, and Christa Miller) and a Lindberg ~~affiliated entity, whereby each of~~ Affiliate Defendant the Lindberg ~~affiliated entities~~ Affiliate
Defendant acted as alter-~~egos~~ ego of Lindberg himself.

334. ~~146.~~ At all relevant times, PBLA, Lindberg ~~was an insider to PBLA and each of~~ ~~the affiliated entities to which the Trust Proceeds were transferred.~~

~~147.~~ At all times, PBLA, a known affiliate, or one of the Lindberg Affiliate
Defendants, retained possession or control of the Trust Proceeds that were transferred from the Trust.

~~148.~~ At the time the fraudulent transactions occurred, ULICO was a creditor or became a creditor immediately after the first transaction occurred.

335. ~~149.~~ The nature of each of the transactions ~~were~~ was such that PBLA, through the direction of Lindberg and Herwig, attempted to conceal the Trust Proceeds for the sole benefit of Lindberg and his affiliated entities; ~~and affiliated~~ partners, including Chris Herwig and Christa Miller.

COUNT ~~IIII~~

Voidable Transfer With Intent to Hinder, Delay or Defraud As to the Voidable Transfer Defendants Group (Under N.Y. Debt. & Cred. Law § 276)

336. Paragraphs 1 through 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

337. Numerous transfers were carried out with loan and security agreements or assignment and repurchase agreements between PBLA and the Voidable Transfer Defendants. These agreements resulted in the Trust receiving certain securities from the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants. The Trust's interest in each of these securities was of dubious value, as the securities had limited marketability.

338. At the time of each transfer ULICO was either (1) a creditor of PBLA at the time the transfer was made or (2) became a creditor of PBLA subsequent to the transfer.

339. Each transfer was conducted with the actual and specific intent to hinder, delay, or defraud ULICO, as the only creditor to PBLA as it relates to the Trust.

340. For each of the transfers received by the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, the transfer was made to an "insider" of PBLA, as many of the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants are shell corporations created by Lindberg, the sole owner of PBLA, to implement his fraudulent scheme.

341. For each of the transfers received by the Voidable Transfer Defendants, PBLA, through Lindberg, retained possession or control of the assets transferred after the transfer due to Lindberg's dominion and control over the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants.

342. The total transfers initiated at Lindberg's direction depleted a substantial portion of assets rightfully belonging to ULICO from the Trust.

343. Each transfer was conducted and made at a time where the Trust did not have sufficient funds to meet the minimum reserve requirement as required by the Reinsurance

Agreement and PBLA did not have the financial capability of doing so. Therefore, PBLA was insolvent.

344. For each of the transfers received by the Voidable Transfer Defendants, certain “badges of fraud” were present, including (1) the lack of adequate consideration for the transfers; (2) the close relationship between the entities involved in the transfers given Lindberg’s dominion and control over the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants; (3) the retention of funds rightfully belonging to ULICO by Lindberg and his affiliated companies; (4) the cumulative effect of the serious and course of conduct involving the transfers given the large amount of money transferred to parties affiliated with Lindberg in a short time frame and therefore (5) the general chronology of the events and transactions under inquiry.

COUNT IV
Voidable Transfer Without Receipt Of Reasonably Equivalent Value
As to the Voidable Transfer Defendants
(Under N.Y. Debt. & Cred. Law §§ 273 and 274)

345. Paragraphs 1 through 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

346. At the time of each transfer ULICO was either (1) a creditor of PBLA at the time the transfer was made or (2) became a creditor of PBLA subsequent to the transfer.

347. Numerous transfers were carried out with loan and security agreements or assignment and repurchase agreements between PBLA and the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants. These agreements resulted in the Trust receiving certain securities from the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants. The Trust’s interest in each of these securities was of dubious value, as the securities had limited marketability.

348. Each transfer was made without receipt of reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation.

349. For each transfer PBLA was engaged in a transaction for which the remaining assets of the Trust were unreasonably small in relation to the transaction.

350. For each transfer PBLA should have reasonably believed at the time of each transaction that such transactions were beyond PBLA's ability to pay as such obligations became due under the Reinsurance Agreement, and PBLA did not have the financial capability of doing so. Therefore, PBLA was insolvent.

351. For each of the transfers received by the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, certain "badges of fraud" were present, including (1) the lack of adequate consideration for the transfers; (2) the close relationship between the entities involved in the transfers given Lindberg's dominion and control over the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants; (3) the retention of funds rightfully belonging to ULICO by Lindberg and his affiliated companies; (4) the cumulative effect of the serious and course of conduct involving the transfers given the large amount of money transferred to parties affiliated with Lindberg in a short time frame and therefore (5) the general chronology of the events and transactions under inquiry.

COUNT V

Unjust Enrichment

As to All Defendants

352. ~~150.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~105~~312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

353. ~~151.~~ Defendants have received a benefit from the transfer of the Trust Proceeds at the Plaintiff's expense.

354. ~~152.~~ The Trust Proceeds rightfully belong to the equitable owners of the Trust, ULICO.

355. ~~153.~~ It is against equity and good conscience to permit Defendants to retain the Trust Proceeds.

356. ~~154.~~ The Defendants have been unjustly enriched at the Plaintiff's expense as a result of fraudulent transfers of the Trust Proceeds.

357. ~~155.~~ By reason of the foregoing, the Plaintiff is entitled to an order from this Court instructing the Defendants to immediately turnover the Trust Proceeds.

Count ~~HV~~VI
Conversion

As to the Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants and Lindberg

358. ~~156.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~111~~312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

359. ~~157.~~ ULICO is the equitable owner of the Trust Proceeds.

360. ~~158.~~ The Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants are alter-egos of Lindberg, have unlawfully and without authorization assumed and exercised dominion and control over the Trust Proceeds to the exclusion of the Trust and inconsistent with its right as the rightful owner.

361. ~~159.~~ The Lindberg ~~Affiliates'~~ Affiliate Defendants' and Lindberg's exercise of dominion and control over the Trust Proceeds has unjustifiably denied the Trust the right to use, consume, exploit, and profit from same.

362. ~~160.~~ ULICO has demanded return of the assets taken from the Trust ~~Proceeds~~by PBLA.

363. ~~161.~~ The Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants and Lindberg have refused to return ~~the Trust Proceeds~~ said assets to the Trust.

364. ~~162.~~ By reason of the foregoing, ULICO, as the equitable owner of the Trust, is entitled to an order from this Court instructing Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants and Lindberg to turn over the assets taken from the Trust ~~Proceeds~~ by PBLA and transferred to the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants immediately.

Count ~~IV~~ VII
Constructive Trust
As to All Defendants

365. ~~163.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~118~~ 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

366. ~~164.~~ The Reinsurance Agreement provided the construction of a Trust, where at all times, a minimum reserve was to be maintained within the Trust, for the benefit of ULICO. ULICO, therefore, is the equitable owner and beneficiary of the Trust Proceeds pursuant to the Reinsurance Agreement.

367. ~~165.~~ PBLA, through the guidance and direction of Lindberg, entered into and executed hundreds of transactions whereby withdrawing the Trust Proceeds from the Trust and then entered into various loans with the Defendants with knowledge of the effect such transactions would have on the future creditors, and mainly, ULICO, with the actual and specific intent to hinder, delay, or defraud ULICO and related creditors.

368. ~~166.~~ As a result of the hundreds of transactions, over $500 million of Trust Proceeds was wrongfully transferred from the Trust, at the detriment of ULICO, and any related creditors.

369. ~~167.~~ Defendants had no equitable title or rights to the Trust Proceeds.

Count ~~V~~ VIII
Fraud

As to the Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants Eli Global, and Lindberg

370. ~~168.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~123~~ 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

371. ~~169.~~ Lindberg, in concert with each of the Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants, Eli Global, and Lindberg represented to ULICO that PBLA would undertake its commitments under the Reinsurance Agreement and Trust Agreement. In fact, Lindberg and the Lindberg Affiliates made those misrepresentations knowing that their true intent was to induce ULICO to place the trust assets under the control of the Lindberg Affiliates, so the Lindberg Affiliates could convert them to their own use.

372. Each of the transfers advanced Lindberg's fraudulent scheme, transferring liquid assets out of the Trust and into Lindberg Affiliates.

373. ~~170.~~ ULICO acted in reliance on those false representations in placing the trust assets under the control of PBLA, Lindberg, and the Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~ Affiliate Defendants.

374. ~~171.~~ ULICO has been damaged by the false representations because the Lindberg Affiliates have stripped the assets of the trust in which ULICO held equitable title.

Count ~~VII~~ X
Breach of Fiduciary Duty

As to the Defendants Lindberg ~~Affiliates~~, Herwig, and Miller

375. ~~172.~~ Paragraphs 1 through ~~127~~ 312 are incorporated and realleged here as if set forth in full.

376. ~~173.~~ PBLA, acting as the alter-ego of Lindberg (the owner of PBLA) entered into the Reinsurance Agreement, which required PBLA to act as a fiduciary for the Trust, and to maintain the Trust for the benefit of ULICO.

377. Defendants Lindberg, Herwig, and Miller routinely executed purchase agreements, assignments, and various other agreements on behalf of PBLA, Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, and the Trust.

378. As directors of various Lindberg Affiliate Defendants, Defendants Herwig, Lindberg, and Miller have a fiduciary obligation arising from PBLA's entry into the Reinsurance Agreement.

379. ~~174.~~ PBLA, as the alter-ego of Lindberg, breached its fiduciary duty by engaging in self-dealing transactions with Lindberg and the Lindberg Affiliate Defendants by failing to protect the Trust and ULICO's interest.

380. ~~175.~~ As a result, ULICO has suffered substantial damages.

WHEREFORE, ULICO respectfully requests this Court enter an Order that:

- a. All transactions occurred on or around July 7, 2017 and continuing thereafter are deemed voidable, and Defendants must repay ULICO for each voidable transaction, plus applicable interest;
- b. ULICO to recover from Defendants damages in excess of $524,009,051.26, plus applicable interest;
- c. ULICO to recover post-judgment interest;
- d. ULICO to recover punitive damages; and
- e. Any such further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

Jury Demand

Plaintiff, ULICO, demands trial by jury for all matters triable to a jury.
